

Dr. Haresh Dodeja
M.D (MED): D.N.B (NEPH): M.N.A.M.S
Consultant Nephrologist & Transplant Physician

Academic Qualifications:

Dr Haresh Dodeja completed his MD in Medicine from Grant Medical College and then he joined Jaslok Hospital and Research Center to do his training in Nephrology and Transplant medicine. He received his Diplomate in Nephrology from the National Board of Education.

Awards:

Dr Haresh Dodeja received Dr P. N. Berry scholarship for the year 2003 and trained at the Leicester General Hospital on a Royal College sponsored Clinical Fellowship with Professor John Feehally, well respected teacher and the president of the Renal Association.

He has presented numerous papers at the national conferences in India, and was twice recipient of the Best poster presentation in Hemodialysis and Transplant category. He has presented his audit on CAPD patients from Leicester general hospital at the World Congress of Nephrology in Singapore 2005. He has co-authored a chapter on Poisoning and Renal Failure with Prof John Feehally for 3rd edition of Clinical Nephrology, and has authored 4 chapters on chronic tubulointerstitial nephritis for the Oxford Desk Reference on Nephrology.

Special Interest:

Dr Haresh Dodeja has been instrumental in setting up the dialysis unit at a leading hospital in Mumbai and is working as a Consultant Nephrologist & Clinical Co coordinator -dialysis unit.

He is well versed with all aspects of general nephrology and dialysis, including CRRT, CAPD, and Renal Transplantation. While at Leicester, he picked up training in all the procedures like dynamic ultrasound guided biopsy and insertion of Permacaths. He received training in the long term care of the renal transplant patients at Jaslok Hospital, which has done more than 1500 transplants, and at Leicester General Hospital, where he managed the annual review clinic for one year. His personal interest and aim has been in setting up a Renal Obstetric Clinic for the management of renal disease in obstetric practice.